On June 10, 2024, FOXO Technologies Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), received an official notice of noncompliance (the “NYSE American Notice”) from NYSE Regulation (“NYSE”) stating that the Company is not in compliance with NYSE American continued listing standards (the “Delinquency Notification”) due to an outstanding balance of listing fees over 180 days old and NYSE provided the Company until June 7, 2024 to provide payment before the Company would become subject to the noncompliance procedures (the “Delinquency”). The Company failed to pay the fee by June 7, 2024.

In connection with its non-compliance with Section 1003(f)(iv) of the Company Guide, the Company must submit a written response by June 17, 2024 advising of actions it has taken or will take to pay its past-due fees in full to NYSE within 30 calendar days of receipt of the Delinquency Notification.

If the Company does not submit the written response or if the actions proposed by the Company in its written response are deemed unacceptable by NYSE, NYSE will commence delisting proceedings. Furthermore, if NYSE accepts the actions proposed by the Company in its written response and the Company does not make progress towards full payment of all past-due fees consistent with the proposed actions as accepted by NYSE, NYSE staff will initiate delisting proceedings as appropriate. The Company may appeal a staff delisting determination in accordance with Section 1010 and Part 12 of the Company Guide.

The Company must contact NYSE by June 14, 2024, to confirm receipt of the Delinquency Notification, discuss any possible information which NYSE staff may be unaware of and indicate whether it plans to present a compliance plan.
